What is M/WBE certification? How can it open doors to new business opportunities?

Asian Women In Business (AWIB) has been designated by the NYC Council and the NYC Department of Small Business Services as a partner in outreaching to Asian owned businesses to obtain certification and to gain access to City contracts.

This workshop will walk you through the certification requirements, and you can start the process of getting certified right at the workshop.

Learn the ins and outs of doing business with the City and gain access to tools that will increase your ability to compete successfully on City contracting opportunities.

The March 20th and 28th workshops are designed to assist Korean business owners and will be conducted in English with Korean translations available.
